Ten Rules for Forgiveness

One of the greatest hindrances to a Christian is being able to live a victorious life and grow in Christ in an unforgiving spirit. So long as Satan can persuade Christians not to forgive, he can to a large degree prevent the Church from growing. If you are tempted to be unforgiving, try the following “Ten Rules of Forgiving.”

1. Determine that you are going to forgive.
2. Remember the harm resentment can do, not to the other person but to you.
3. Remember that you will never be spiritually blessed until you forgive.
4. Thinking about forgiving is not enough. You must come to a specific moment when you say, “With God’s help, I now forgive.”
5. Repeat the Lord’s Prayer, inserting your offender’s name “Forgive me my trespasses as I forgive _____.”
6. Practice praying for the other person, asking specific blessings for him.
7. Speak to others in a kindly manner about the person against whom you harbor antagonism.
8. Write a brief letter of good will. Do not be offended if it is not answered.
9. Study the causes of this unhappy situation to correct the “mistake pattern” in yourself.
10. Ask God to effect a permanent spiritual change in your nature to forestall future rifts. God will surely hear and answer your prayer.
