What Will Be In Your —?

Yes, I'm referring to that short, nondescript line on your tombstone chiseled between your date of birth and your date of, well, passing. The dash.

This simple punctuation mark symbolizes that all-too-brief period of time we spend in this fragile tent on Earth. Unfortunately, its name is also a sobering reminder of the way many people use their precious little time: in a dash.

We dash through our days in a futile attempt to finish our many tasks, only to run head-on into another full schedule tomorrow. We race through errands, phone calls, and meals all the while deceiving ourselves into believing that we'll relax later. We even rush vacations and holidays because we've forgotten how to slow down to enjoy God's creations — especially our brothers and sisters in Christ.

As a former ad man, I've always appreciated that clever slogan the Tombstone frozen pizza brand has used for decades: "What do you want on your Tombstone?" It's thought-provoking, too... when I slow down enough to think about it.

So, what will be in your —?

As Christians, we have the assurance of an eternal inheritance awaiting us (Heb. 9:15) after our mortal body dies. In the meantime, however, we have work to accomplish here for His glory. Every single day, we're blessed with many, many opportunities to grow in maturity and be more like Christ.

People everywhere are lost and hurting. Pause a moment to look around when you're in the office break room, running an errand, or having lunch. Pray that God will open your eyes to the doors he puts in your path. Then, walk through them.

Another name for that little horizontal line is hyphen. A hyphen between two words indicates that they're to be construed as if they were joined together. I like to think of it as my being joined to Christ.

—in His service, dan
