

"HOW LONG FAITH" (Habakkuk 2:1-20)

1. It doesn't interpret silence and absence.

2. It is certain of God's ultimate triumph over evil.

3. It rests in quiet confidence in the sovereignty of God.

HOW TO HANDLE A TRICKY SITUATION

When Paul wrote to Philemon, he was addressing a difficult situation. Philemon's slave had run away, found Paul, and was obviously baptized into Christ (Philemon 1:10-16). Paul sent the slave (Onesimus) back to Philemon with the letter. How did Paul handle this tricky situation?

1. He recalls all the good things they have in common in Christ. He mentions comfort and commends Philemon (Phil 1:7).
2. He expresses confidence in Christ that he has the right to command Philemon to do what is proper (Phil 1:8).
3. He instead calls upon Philemon for love's sake (Phil. 1:9). The word "appeal" is a good translation from "parakaleo," to call to one's side.

So, if you are dealing with a son or daughter, remember these three things:

1. Recall the good things.
2. Express confidence in your right to command.
3. Call them to your side, figuratively and literally, put your arm around them.

Prayer List:

Doug Boyle...He was diagnosed with gout. He is also still having chest pains and will see his cardiologist on the 27th.

Kathy Marney...She had reconstructive surgery on her right foot Friday morning. It went well, and she is home.

Lena Stites...She has a fracture in her spine. It should heal on its own but is very painful in the meantime.

Patsy Gritz...She is in Integris Hospital, Room 220, with a torn colon. She is in a lot of pain. They did not do surgery after all and are instead looking at other treatment options.

Garry Osburn...His dental surgery has been postponed until February or March. They are treating his swollen feet for water retention. He sees the doctor again on January 29th.

Please continue to keep these loved ones in prayer:
